MUSHROOM KINGDOM PARTY CRACKERS

What you'll need:

1) Paper
2) Empty toilet paper roll (one for each party cracker)
3) Ribbon, twine, or yarn (around 24 inches long for each party cracker)
4) Tape
5) Scissors (Kids, ask a grown-up for help!)
6) OPTIONAL: Party favor that fits inside the roll

Instructions:

1) Cut out the wrapper along the dotted line.
2) Tape the empty roll to the middle of the long side of the wrapper.
3) Roll the wrapper all the way around and tape it in place.
4) Close one end by pinching the wrapper and twisting it into a curl.
5) Place the riddles and/or party favors into the roll.
6) Close the other end.
7) Cut a piece of ribbon, twine, or yarn as long as you need, depending on what you want to do with it.
   a) If you want to hang the party cracker as a decoration, cut one 24-inch strand and tie the same piece around each side.
   b) Otherwise, cut two six-inch strands and tie one around each end.
8) Done!

Riddles and jokes

You can cut these out and put them inside your party crackers so that fun surprises await whoever cracks into them. For extra fun, you can also try to write your own!

Q: What is DK's favorite holiday song?
A: Jungle Bells!

Q: How did Yoshi feel when giving presents to friends?
A: Absolutely egg-static!

Q: Why is Princess Peach's holiday dessert a crowd favorite?
A: Because it really takes the cake!

Q: Why is Mario feeling so merry?
A: The joke in his party cracker really cracked him up!

Q: What is Bowser's secret talent?
A: Lighting candles—he exhales at it!

Q: What did Luigi make for the holiday party?
A: A ginger-Boo house!

Q: Why is Toad so popular at every holiday party?
A: Some say he's a fun-gi to be around!

Q: How would Waluigi sing a holiday carol?
A: Fah-wah-wah-wah-WAAAAAAAAHHHH!

Did you come up with a gut-busting joke of your own? You can use these blank slips to share the fun!
